
Stem Cell Clinical Trials: Opportunities for California Research Teams in the UK

Several clinical trial experts from the United Kingdom spoke at the CIRM-hosted Staying on the Critical Path Workshop to raise awareness about opportunities for California researchers to collaborate on clinical trials with the U.K.

The workshop was held at the 2013 CIRM Grantee Meeting in San Francisco. The speakers included:

Natalie Mount, PhD, Chief Clinical Officer, Cell Therapy Catapult

Christopher Bravery, PhD, Director, Consulting Advanced Biologicals, Ltd.

Matthew Hallsworth, PhD, Head of Communications, National Institute for Health Research
